WANT ALL FARMERS IN ORGANIZATION

NODAWAY FARM BUREAU START
INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN DEC. 15-20

PROMINENT SPEAKERS AID

Hold Meetings in Each Township, General Meeting in Maryville Dec. 20 for Election of Officers.

A membership campaign with the aim of effecting a county wide organization of farmers, will be undertaken the week of Dec. 15 to 20 inclusive, by the Nodaway county farm bureau. The executive board held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the directors room of the Farmers Trust company and made their plans for the drive.

Meetings are to be held in every township in the county, two meetings a day are planned, one in the afternoon and one at night, this being necessary in order to cover the territory in a week's campaign. A general meeting will be held in Maryville on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 20, the last day of the campaign and in order to complete the schedule, the meeting at Arkoe will be held Saturday morning.

At the wind up meeting in Maryville, which will be held at the court house, new officers of the bureau will be elected and plans made for the coming year's work.

The speakers will be Chester. T. Gray, president of the Missouri Farm Bureau federation, and R. M. Roland, of the extension bureau of the State Agricultural college. These men are experienced in farm organization. Mr. Roland will be here for the entire week and Mr. Gray for the last three days of the week.

Following is the schedule of meetings as arranged by the executive committee yesterday afternoon and at which addresses will be made by R. M. Roland:

Monday, Dec. 15—Clearmont at 2:30
Burlington Junction at 8:00.

Tuesday, Dec. 16—Elmo at 2:30;
Quitman at 8:00.

Wednesday, Dec. 17—Graham at 2:30; Skidmore at 8:00.

Thursday, Dec. 18—Guilford at 8:00
Friday, Dec. 19—Conception Junction at 2:30; Ravenwood at 8:00.

Saturday, Dec. 20—Arkoe at 10:00 in the forenoon; Maryville at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Chester H. Gray will speak at Pickering at 2:30 Thursday afternoon and at Hopkins at 8:00 that night. On Friday he will speak at Parnell at 2:30 in the afternoon and at Harmony at night. He will be here for the general meeting Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Gray is one of the most prominent men in the work of organizing the farm bureaus into state and national organizations, have been a member of the committee that arranged for the national meeting held in Chicago last month at which thirty three states had representatives. He was chosen a member of the national executive committee and will have an active part in shaping the policies of this great organization. The committee is very fortunate to secure Mr. Gray to help in the organization of the farm bureau here. He is much in demand throughout the country, but his particular interest just now is to get the Missouri organization in good shape and is giving preference to Missouri calls.

The weakness of all previous efforts at organization among farmers has been in the lack of co-ordination and the definite purpose of working as a national body for the things that are of particular interest to agriculture and by that token of interest to all others in this country. As the organization now is formed the directing heads must be farmers actively engaged in farming. Retired farmers and men who have axes to grind find little encouragement when they attempt to get into control of the organization.

Farmers are beginning to realize that theirs is the biggest business in the United States and that its importance deserves the services of the best special talent the country affords in looking after every phase of national life that directly or indirectly affects the agricultural affairs. With this in view the national organizations propose to get at the facts by employing experts to do their work and to represent them in the conferences that are held from time to time. Capital and labor have been called in national meetings in governmental efforts to adjust their difference but agriculture that it represents the big end of the nation's business.

The national organization of farm bureaus reaches straight down to the people through state, district and county organizations. It is entirely independent of state or national assistance, being supported by dues paid by the individual members.

The Nodaway county farm bureau was organized a year ago under the old plan of $1 a year. It was expected the county farm agent would be supported by the money appropriated by the federal and state aid funds and the county voting a amount. But Nodaway county money to be used in this way, county agent project was abandoned. Under the plan to be presented December 15, the farmers a year, $4 of which will go to the county organization support of the state a federation. In this way the county will have enough money to meet the requirements for the federal and state aid money.

ROCKFORD SCHOOL HAS HOT LUNCHES AFTER OWN PLAN

Each Child Takes Turn in Supplying Lunch for All. Mother, Child and Teacher in Mutual Co-operation.

The serving of hot lunches for school children has been worked out by the Rockford district in a manner which has been very successful. There are ten pupils in the district and one pupil brings the lunch each day for the ten, the pupils taking their turn supplying. There is an oil stove at the school, where the dishes are kept hot.

As a matter of health the hot lunch is necessary to the child, particularly to the younger ones, who often do not eat but very little breakfast. There are other features besides health in the hot lunch plan as it assures sociability for the children and trains them in selection of food.

In the Rockford plan, each mother adds her help to that of the teacher, and has her child assist in the selection of the menu to be provided by him that day and there is a mutual co-operation between mother, child and teacher in the preparation of the most nourishing and appetizing foods.

Last week one of the pupils, Mabel Craig, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Craig, was leaving the district and in her honor, the children had a chicken dinner at noon, the pupils arranging for the serving. The school is taught by Mrs. Guy Erickson, formerly Miss Blanche McGinness and she has been the teacher for the past three years.

PROTEST AGAINST LEGALIZED STRIKES

C. OF C. SEND RESOLUTIONS TO WASHINGTON REPRESENTATIVES

FOR ARBITRATION LAWS

Appeal to State Senators and Representatives to Work for Effective Laws for Principles of Mediation.

At a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, held at the club rooms at 8:30 a. m. December 6, 1919 the following resolutions were passed by a unanimous vote, and the secretary was instructed to wire copies to each of the United States Congressmen and Representatives.

Whereas, First, there has long existed in this country the thought that labor should have the right to combine to strike in order to better its conditions of employment and its compensation therefor, and

Second, in recognition of this so-called right, the federal anti trust act have been amended so as to legalize it and

Third, certain rights are also guaranteed to all the people of the United States under the constitution to wit, the right to labor without outside dictation or interference and in like manner to enjoy the fruits of such labor and in general the pursuit of happiness, and

Fourth, said rights have been invaded by the unrestrained exercise of the right to strike by the labor organizations until the unrestrained exercise of said power now threatens to become competitive and in conflict with the power of the Nation, and

Fifth, said power and said so-called rights have been conferred without restriction, and said power and said rights have been abused by national strikes by a minority of workers threatening the very life of the people through famine and exposure to the elements.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we direct the attention of Missouri senators and representatives in the congress of the United States to the situation and request that they use their influence to being about a revision of these anti trust acts, and the enactment of other acts, to wit,

(a) To repeal all acts conferring privileges upon special classes so that all classes of citizens be made equal in fact before the law.

(b) That the federal anti trust act prescribe that all combinations in restraint of trade which are injurious to the public good be unlawful.

(c) That said act recognize that while certain combinations might not be injurious to the entire public, they might be injurious to individuals, whose rights should be respected, and that it therefore provide that every combination, voluntary or otherwise, shall adequately make itself financially responsible for the acts of its officers, its agents and its members, and place itself in position where it can be made legally and actually answerable for all injury caused thereby and

(d) That there be enacted into effective law the principles of arbitration.

AMOUNT COAL USED YEARLY BY STATE

NEARLY SIX MILLIONS TONS IS MINED IN MISSOURI

CONSUME 14 MILLION

Distribution of Yearly Supply Given by State Bureau of Labor Statistics

Jefferson City, Mo., Dec. 6.—It is of interest to Missourians with the present coal shortage affecting, more or less, every industry, transportation, corporation and household of the state, to know the total quantity of coal which is consumed annually in the state, and what distribution is made of the 5,670,000 tons of bituminous coal the mines of the commonwealth now contribute yearly to the available supply. According to information collected by the Missouri Bureau of Labor Statistics, given publicly today by Labor Commissioner William H. Lewis, it takes, approximately, 14,450,000 tons every year to fill all home demands of the state.

While Missouri coal deposits are ample enough to fully supply all annual demands of the state for generations to come yet the output of 1918, minus the quantity which was shipped into other states, only represented 39.2 per cent of the quantity consumed in the commonwealth, fully 60.8 per cent being shipped in from elsewhere. The reason for this condition is that in eastern Missouri, including St. Louis, coal imported from Illinois and Kentucky sells cheaper than the state article, due chiefly to the cost of transportation. A similar condition, relating to the coal of Arkansas and Kansas, applies to south-west Missouri.

Of the annual coal output of Missouri mines, 55 per cent is used by the industries and households of the state; 37 per cent by railroads; and 8 per cent is shipped to other states, namely to Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma. The same percentage of consumption applies to all coal shipped into Missouri from other states.

The annual bituminous coal consumption of the state, all demands, is placed at 14,250,000 tons. These figures include half anthracite coal shipped in from Arkansas, Oklahoma and other points. In addition, Pennsylvania annually supplies Missouri with 200,000 tons of pure anthracite coal, and this total, combined with the total of soft and the small quantity of semi-hard coal already referred to, constitutes the total yearly consumption of 14,450,000 tons.

Of the 14,250,000 tons of soft and semi-anthracite coal consumed in Missouri in 1918, nearly 7,000,000 tons were used for manufacturing and other industrial purposes; 3,000,000 tons by the households of the state; 2,100,000 by transportation corporations; 1,050,000 tons by electrical utilities; 755,000 tons by gas manufacturing companies; 360,000 tons in the manufacture of coke and other by-products, and 162,000 tons at Missouri mines for steam power and heating.

The 1918 Missouri output of coal totaled 5,670,000 tons. There was sold to the railroads that year 2,100,000 tons of Missouri coal; the shipments that year to outside states totaled 460,000 tons, and the industries and households of Missouri consumed 3,110,000 tons.

FORCE MEN CHOP TIMBER FOR CITY

BUSY TODAY ON BEAL LAND EAST OF MARYVILLE.

ON SALE AT CITY YARD

Have no Trouble in Obtaining Large
Tracts of Timber at Reasonable Prices.

A force of twelve men are cutting timber today on the Beal land four and a half miles east of the city for the city fuel committee. A much larger force is needed and the committee is issuing calls in all direction for men to work. Any one wanting to work is asked to report at once to the Chamber of Commerce. The committee has been offered wood in many places but have purchased the lots as near to the city as could be obtained in order to cut out a long haul.

The city committee has had no trouble in buying wood at fair prices and have been met on every hand, with a willingness on the part of the owners of timber to take less than they could obtain from dealers and they have offered it for $1.50 to $2 less per cord.

Elias Orear from whom the Beal timber now being cut was purchased, sold it all at $2 less per cord than he was offered by dealers. Mr. Orear had been made a fine offer on the land in order to obtain the timber and he refused this, allowing the city to have first choice at a financial benefit.

Wood can now be obtained from the municipal yard at the John Gray feed yard. Mr. Gray has charge of the sale and distribution and wood can be obtained by any one needing it. The price varies according to the quality and cash must be paid at the time of purchase.

The city fuel committee urges every one to use the strictest economy in the use of fuel and not lack a moment in conservation. Nothing but rigid conservation in every way will avert a serious state or ward off suffering should the weather become severely cold.

The investigation of the proposition to operate the Nodaway county mines has been made by the city committee and they have found it advisable, on account of the lack of machinery, the placement of the coal, complying with the federal law relative to the opening and operating of mines and other matters, not to take any part in it. They made the proposition however, that should any private citizen or company operate the mines, the city would purchase the coal at the mine and pay for transportation.

The statement issued by the committee regarding the county mines is as follows:

Fuel Committee's Report on Coal.
The fuel committee has been asked repeatedly why they did not attempt to open up the various coal mines at Sunnysbrook, Quitman, west of Skidmore and other points.

Replying to all of these queries will say that we have considered this problem and have secured considerable information from reliable parties in regard to the possibilities of opening these mines, and our conclusion is that this committee cannot afford to attempt to mine any coal. However, there is no denying the fact that there is considerable coal in some of these ledges, and if anybody sees fit to organize for the purpose of opening up any of these mines we would be glad to have the fuel and will make every effort to arrange for transportation and to pay the miners a reasonable wage for producing same.

Passenger train service in Maryville will be curtailed commencing Monday on account of the seriousness of the coal shortage.

On the Burlington, there will be only two passenger trains daily. They will be No. 4 due here at 11:51 a. m., and No. 3, due here at 4:48 p. m. The morning train, due at 7:52 a. m., and the evening train, due at 8:25 p. m., will be suspended.

Wabash passenger No. 12 waited at Burlington Junction thirty minutes this morning to get up enough steam to run.

For a number of years she had made her home with her daughter and she had a large circle of friends all over the community.

RELEASE OF JENKINS SHROUDED IN MYSTERY

Investigation of American Agents Liberation by Mexicans Begun by State Department.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The release of the American Consul Agent Jenkins by the Mexican authorities is shrouded in mystery and the state department today began a thorough investigation of the manner in which Jenkins was liberated from the Puebla prison. By whom the $5000 bail was furnished, upon whose authority it was paid, and the motives underlying these acts are totally unknown here. Even Jenkins himself, it is said, was unaware of how or why he was turned loose.

"That state department never considered for a moment changing the policy of Jenkins in refusing bail," Secretary of State Lansing declared today.

The president is expected to make the next move on the Mexican situation. Complete reports and results of investigations of Senator Fall and the sub-committee of the foreign relations committee relative to the Mexican affairs will be laid before President Wilson today. He is expected to send word to the committee Monday relative to the Fall resolution providing for a diplomatic break with Mexico.

DRIVE AGITATORS FROM COAL FIELDS

FEDERAL AND STATE JURISDICTION OF MINES COMPLICATE

MANY INDUSTRIES CLOSED

Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Men in Chicago to be Out of Work Monday Account of Lack of Fuel.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The war powers of the president given Fuel Administrator Garfield to deal with the coal emergency has been brought to the attention of the governors of the midwestern states; who are attempting to settle the coal strike and avert fuel crisis on their own basis, with the intimation that the federal authority of the government must not be interfered with.

While confining messages to governors to the simple statement of powers and jurisdiction of the federal government in the matter, Attorney General Palmer and Administrator Garfield conveyed the idea that separate action on the part of the states to settle the coal strike or change the basis of the wage adjustment that has been sanctioned by the fuel administration will serve to complicate a serious situation and render more difficult the work of final adjustment of re-opening the mines. In an effort to alleviate the fuel shortage through out the west and to avoid unnecessary transportation affecting the shipment of coal, Director General Hines today issued embargo against the movement of fuel oil from the western territory to points east of Chicago and St. Louis. The embargo is effective December 8.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Attempts of radical agitators to bring about a strike of the anthracite miners have been frustrated by the department of justice. It was announced this afternoon. Federal agents reported agitators have been driven from the fields by the anthracite miners and have refused to heed the agitators and have brought the production of anthracite coal up to 125 per cent of normal.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Idleness has stalked in the wake of the coal force, practically paralyzing productions in the steel mills in south Chicago territory shutting down two hundred plan and throwing fifty thousand out of work. Two hundred and fifty thousand are expected to be idle by Monday.

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 6.—An early settlement of the coal strike seemed probable today, despite the fact that all parties at the conference yesterday, Governor Cox, operators and miners, preserved silence. An air of unshakable optimism reigned in all quarters.

APPROVES EMPHATIC TERMS OF NOTE TO GERMANY

Paris, Dec. 6.—The supreme council today approved the stern note to Germany, stating the complete conditions of the peace treaty and protocol ratification must be carried out. It is expected the note will be sent either tomorrow or Monday. While the note is not a definite ultimatum, it is plain spoken warning that the Allies must not tolerate any dilatory tactics on the part of Germany.

Santa Claus' Postoffice.

The lack of coal and the high cost of living isn't going to put Santa Claus out of business this year and he is coming to visit all the youngsters of Nodaway county just as he always does.

DALE CARNEGIE ENTERING RANK OF WRITING CELEBRITIES

Is Nodaway County Young Man, Now Working on Book With Nodaway for Background.

Nodaway county is to have another literary genius. If things keep on at the present lick, Nodaway county will push Indiana right off the map. The new writer launched upon the world is Dale Carnegie of Bedison.

The launching was accomplished and Mrs. Carnegie was sent down the ways at a dinner given in his honor in New York Tuesday night of this week. Up to that time Mr. Carnegie had been a lecturer and known for his classes in public speaking in the Y. M. C. A.'s in the East. He was the best known and highest paid teacher of public speaking in the United States and Mr. Carnegie is yet a young man, being still unmarried only thirty years and four days old. The dinner was given in honor of his giving up lecture work and taking up a career as a writer. It was a merry occasion, but underneath all could feel the solemnity of the advent.

Those present from Nodaway county in addition to Mr. Carnegie himself were O. R. Geyer and Homer Croy.

Dale Carnegie is the son of James Carnegie and lived for years near Bedson where he traded with Robert Trabb. More recently James Carnegie and wife have moved to Belton, Mo.

Mr. Carnegie expects to write of scenes in and around Maryville. Mr. Carnegie is now working on a novel with the opening scenes laid on the old Broderick farm. From there the story moves to the Wash Hoosier place and then as the boy grows up to Bedison.

Mr. Geyer who was present is a writer connected with the famous players film company with offices on fifth avenue. Mr. Geyer once lived in Graham, but is rapidly becoming accustomed to the great city.

Another Nodaway county person who wishes Mr. Carnegie success in his new endeavor is Mrs. Stanley Glass. She was once Bertha Walker of South Buchanan street. She is preparing to have an exhibition of her art work.

Jerry Edwards Married.

Word reaches Hopkins of the marriage of Jerry Edwards, a former well known farmer of the Hopkins vicinity, to a Miss Lizzie Carmichael, the wedding taking place Oct. 29 at the home of the bride's parents in Salesberry, Ind., and the couple are now at home at Stanford, Ind.—Hopkins Journal.

ELECTRICITY

Electricity is clean.

Electricity is instantaneous.

Electricity is economical.

Electricity is efficient.

Against all odds the Maryville Electric Light & Power Co. bends every effort to give service. That makes electric cooking efficient. Users of electric ranges are never inconvenienced more than is absolutely necessary by accidents and these have been much less than the inconvenience usually encountered in the use of other fuel, such as stopped up flues, broken grates, poor oil or gasoline, and worn out or burned out stoves.

Users of electricity never have dirt, muss, smoke, ashes, soot, gas, fumes, matches, kindling, coal oil, coal, wood, cans, pans, bins, shovels or sifters to contend with.

And the cost is less in the long run than other fuel, besides doing so much better work.

COME AND SEE THE RANGES AND TALK TO US ABOUT THEM.

HOMER CROY PUTTING OUT ANOTHER "BEST SELLER"

Those who feared there would be no best seller on the book market next year may quiet their fears. Homer Croy has just completed a new Missouri novel, "Turkey Bowman," the hero being a boy who was decorated like a turkey egg, which Harper's will bring out next spring. Mr. Croy writes that he wrote this book with less effort and more enjoyment than any of his other books and believes it will be his most successful work.—Kansas City Star.

A Slight Accident.

What might have easily proven a serious accident took place near the Kivett corner the other night when George Lowry ran into Ed Northover. Ed was walking south and George came around the corner in his Ford, striking Ed before he had time to get out of the way, Ed not hearing the car and George not seeing Ed until it was too late to keep from hitting him. While Ed was tangled up between the front wheels and radiator and had one shoe torn off, he was not seriously hurt.—Hopkins Journal.
